

QUALITY TALENT. REDUCED COSTS. ENHANCED PROFITABILITY.

If you're looking to increase your profitability, we can reduce your recruiting costs by up to 80%. That's in addition to helping you fill more positions without hiring additional recruiters.

Most recruiting companies and talent acquisition teams spend between $300 and $1000 to acquire one qualified and interested candidate. Our team will reduce that cost to approximately $100 per candidate.

Our passion lies in providing leading firms with the top-quality recruiters they need, when they need it, building long-term partnerships along the way.

THE KORERPO APPROACH

Sourcing

Hiring one person is tough enough, but when you're expanding your workforce, the workload can be overwhelming.

Our expert recruiters are pros at quickly finding talent that perfectly fits your needs.

Whether you need specific skills, work experience, or a cultural match, we've got you covered.

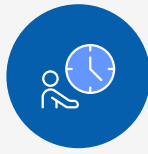

Screening

High-volume shouldn't mean low-quality hiring. Our senior recruiters bring decades of experience to the table, ensuring that every single hire is a top-notch professional. You'll never have to compromise on quality, no matter how many positions you need to fill.

Optimizing

A steady flow of talent depends on efficiency throughout the full recruitment lifecycle. We leverage our extensive experience partnering with talent acquisition teams all around the world in a wide variety of industries to help your team develop best practices with metrics for constant improvement.

SUCCESS STORIES

We've experienced exponential growth over the years driven by our delivery engine on the backend run by KoreRPO. About 65% of our closes come from KoreRPO in terms of sourcing or recruiting candidates.

Through our partnership with KoreRPO, we can cast a wider net faster and have more eyes on jobs for our clients. Additionally, their services take workload off our senior recruiters, allowing them to focus on building deeper relationships with candidates.

– Steve Quarles | Founder & CEO of KORE1, a $40 million annual revenue staffing firm based in Irvine, CA. Inc. 5000 honoree 8 years in a row since engaging with KoreRPO.

Doing business with KoreRPO has allowed us to lighten our workload, get access to more technologies, reduce recruiting costs, and scale our business.

Since we started working with KoreRPO in just 4 short months, we've hired 3 direct hire candidates, we've gotten 6 offers, and we've got 10 candidates as of today that are currently interviewing. Those are candidates that we never would have sourced or come across ourselves, so it has basically doubled our success rate so far.
